Before the eyes can see they must be incapable of tears. Before the ear can hear it must have lost its sensitiveness. Before the voice can speak in the presence of the Masters it must have lost the power to wound. Before the soul can stand in the presence of the Masters its feet must be washed in the blood of the heart. I. Kill out ambition. Ambition is the first curse: the great tempter of the man who is rising above his fe Uows. It is the simplest form of looking for reward. Men of intelligence and power are led away from their higher possibilities by it continually. Yet it is a necessary teacher. I ts results turn to dust and ashes in the mouth ;like death and estrangement it shows the man at last that to work for self is to work for disappointment.
